Doings of the Utah Legislature.

Special Dispatches to THE RECORD NEW YORK, Jan. 11 -Silver, 69; Lead,

SALT LARM, Jan., 9. - News was received here yesterday from Washington to the effect that Col. Samuel Merritt had been appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Utah to succeed Judge Zane. Frank Harris of Salt Lake City was also appointed to be Receiver of Public Moneys.

At two o'clock yesterday the thirty-first session of the Utah Legislature convened. All were present but Councilor Adams who sent word that he was ill but would report later. Mr. Breeken was chosen president of the Council and A. B. Emery was elected Speaker of the House. The Governor's report was read to the members yesterday and it is very brief. Anticipating early Statehood the Governor recommends the law makers to confine themselves to matters of urgent necessity and the taking of preliminarn steps only "in the inauguration of new subjects." For the University and Agricultural college he thinks legislation should be limited to making the necessary appropriations for meeting the current expenses of those institutions. He repeats his old reccommendation for the establishing of an irrigation commission; advocates an approprintion of $125,000 to be given the site of the capitol; speaks a good word for the proposed monument to Brigham Young and recommends that it be given a sight in the capitol grounds. He urges the enactment of a law to enable the ferming of a Territorial militia, eight hours as a legal days work, wants the lien law revised and amended, thinks the Territorial warrants should be kept as good as gold in this Territory, and finally urges prompt work that the real business may not be postponed as usual until the last days of the session when the executive has not time to give to measures more than a hasty examination. The message is very brief and totally ignores many subjects that it was expected would be

The loss by water to the foreign exhibits is enormous. It was a scene of awful grandeur and has been called since last night the "World's Fair Pompeii."

WASHINGTON, D. C. Jan. 9. - No nominations came to the Senate to-day owing to its early adjournment. A number will undoubtedly go in to-morrow. Appointments to the post offices at Ogden, Provo and Park City are expected then.

Representative Rawlins feels at present that he will not make any speech on the tariff bill. The time of the House is entirely occupied for some time to come.

Paris, Jan. 10.-The trial of August Vaillant, the anarchist who threw the bomb in the Chamber of Deputies in Paris, about a month ago was concluded to-day. The court house was surrounded by guards and nobody was allowed to pass unidentified. The court made short work of the trial which resulted in condemnation of the prisoner to death. The prisoner refused to sign an appeal from the sentence. He will probably be the first person guillotined within prison walls, for a law was recently passed by the Senate against the publicity of execution.

SALT LAKE, Jan, 11. - The long litigation over the personal property of the Mormon church has terminated. Yesterday the report of the matter was made to the Supreme Court of the Territory, and a decree prepared in accordance with the act of Comgress restoring the property, was adopted by the Court. This turns over the money held by the receiver to the authorities of the church to be expended in payment of its debts; for the relief of its prior and distressed members; for the education of the children of church members and the repairing and building of houses of worship in which polygamous principles shall not be inculcated.

Finally it is asserted that if the rebels are successful in making a landing at Nictheroy a general attack upon the city of Rio Janeiro will be immediately commenced, every available man on board of the Insurgent warship is being utilized in the attack. OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Correspondence of THE RECORD

WASHINGTON, January 2, 1894. Mr. Cleveland has evolved a new scheme to prevent the dissatisfied Democrats from even expressing their objections to his tariff bill before the Democratic caucus, which will probably be held this week. He has issued an order that the caucus shall decide immediately after assembling whether it is advisable for it to pass on the tariff bill. If he can control a majority of the caucus the tariff bill will not be touched. Meanwhile some of the dissatisfied Democrats are trying to get the Republicans to promise to vote with them to recommit the bill to the Ways and Means Committe when Mr. Wilson calls it up in the House. The Republicans have not decided whether they will do this, but it is hardly probable that they will.

Senator Allison thinks that the Cleveland tariff bill will be censidered by the entire membership of the Finance Committee when it gets to the Senate, just as the McKinley bill was. It will be remembered that the Republicans of the Ways and Means Comtake any part whatever in the making of

The New Year's reception at the White House recalled sad memories to many. One year ago the White House and the residences of members of the last administration were all in mourning because of the then recent death of Mrs. Harrison, and no official receptions were held in Washington.

There is a wide difference of opinion among Democrats about authorizing the issue of bonds recommended by Secretary Carlisle, and it may cause a big fight in the House as soon as the tariff bill is disposed

It will cause no surprise among treasury officials should there be a deficit at the close of the Current fiscal year, June 30, 1894, of as much as $75,000,000. This is more than three times what the estimate was of the probable deficiency before the schedules of the Cleveland tariff bill were made public. That bill is directly responsible for the probable trebbling of the deficiency. Importations are getting smaller and smaller and will continue to dwindle so long as there is any probability of that bill becoming a law. Importers are not disposed to pay the present duties when there is a possibility that by waiting a few months they can take advantage of the low duties or the free list of the Cleveland bill. And that is not the worst of it. The same cause is operating to shut down American manufactories and it will be no better for a long time should that bill become a law, which TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 4.-Mrs. Lease has God forbid, for as soon as it does our been returned to her place on the State markets will be so flooded with foreign Board of Charities on legal proceedings goods that our own manufacturers will hesiwages which everybody now sees must fol-
